Last week I mentioned several of the new faces at AES. As a school district, we also have a new face in our central office: Dr. Gary Reese has been hired by our School Committee as our Interim Superintendent. Most recently, Dr. Reese served as an Assistant Superintendent for the Woburn Public Schools. He began his career as a special education teacher and has a lot of experience with curriculum development. You can reach Dr. Reese at the Superintendent's office (388-0507) or via email at reeseg@amesburyma.gov. In addition, Dr. Reese has created an account on Twitter - @AmesburySchools. He plans on providing updates (including the all-important school closing announcements) on this account so, if you are on Twitter, feel free to follow him!

Our curriculum night is this Thursday and it is your opportunity to hear from your child's teacher an outline of what is going to be focused upon during this school year. The format is the same as previous years with everyone, including the teachers, starting in the cafeteria and then moving to the classrooms. Parents of children in Pre-K, Kindergarten, 1st Grade, and 2nd Grade are asked to be here for 6:00 while our 3rd and 4th Grade parents are asked to be here for 7:00.
