

Tooth Fairy

Hello, my name is the Tooth Fairy. I come from a long line of tooth lovers and as you could have probably guessed, I am obsessed with teeth! It all began back in 1900 when my parents uprooted me (get it?) from Tennessee and took me to Dental Drive, Delaware. Here I made my home- picture this: a tooth shaped white house complete with toothbrush door handles, a tongue doormat, and minty fresh air fresheners! Actually, my whole neighborhood is filled with odd houses; the Keebler Elves live in the tree house next door, the Boogie Man's bed shaped house is across the street, and just beyond the rainbow is the Lucky Charms leprechaun's house. There's never a dull day in Dental Drive!

Wondrous things happen to children everywhere late at night when I come by! You see, I have the ability to know and keep track of everyone who has lost a tooth. I am able to magically enter other people's homes, go up to bedrooms, and replace lost teeth with dollar bills! It's a good thing that I am also able to turn teeth into dollars, otherwise I'd go broke!

As you can see, my resourcefulness comes in handy on a daily basis. Pair that with my cautious, diligent, and selfless work habits and you have one happy-go-lucky Tooth Fairy making the world a better place one toothless smile at a time!
